

Notes 6

awk

Definition:

Awk is a scripting language used for processing and displaying text.

Usage: awk + options + {awk command} + file + file to save

Example: awk '{print $1}' ~/Documents/Csv/cars.csv

sed

Definition:

SED is a stream editor that perform operations on files and standard output.

Usage: sed options + sed script + file

Example: sed 's/pizza/rice/' shopping-list.lst

less

Definition:

Less command is used to view the contents of a text file.

Usage: pager program + file to read

Example: less ~/Documents/Books/dracula.txt

alias

Definition:

Used to create custom shortcuts or abbreviations for commands.

Usage: alias 11 ='ls -l'

Example: ~/.bash_profile

>

Examples

Used to redirect the output of a command to the file.

>>

Examples

Used to append the output of a command to a file.

|

Examples

Used to train commands together where the output of one command becomes the input of another.